

About Dentons Lee

Since its founding in 1961, Dentons Lee (formerly Lee International Law Group) has long been praised by clients for its expertise in intellectual property matters. But due to a rapidly changing economic environment linked to increasing global trade and investment, client needs expanded, requiring more comprehensive legal services in diverse fields that went far beyond IP. To meet these needs, Dentons Lee embarked on a mission to acquire new professionals from Korea and abroad, with wide-ranging experience in many practice areas, including litigation and dispute resolution, corporate matters, labor and employment, M&A, finance, antitrust, regulatory, compliance, trade/investment, international commerce, customs and tariffs, foreign exchange, tax and others. This search for new talent enabled Dentons Lee to expand its practice areas and transform itself into a full-service law firm that provides clients with the comprehensive legal assistance needed to successfully conduct business in Korea.

Now, thanks to its combination with the global law firm Dentons, the firm has undergone yet another transformation in 2020. Through this transformation, Dentons Lee will now have additional resources enabling it to provide seamless advice and representation to its clients wherever they need it around the world.
